

KNIFESTYLES OF THE RICH & FAMOUS

FOREHEAD

"Carrie's smooth frown lines and forehead indicate she's likely had Botox," notes Beverly Hills plastic surgeon Dr. Josef Hadeed. Upkeep sets devotees back around $1,000 every six months.

EYES

"She's a great example of how Botox isn't only for wrinkles," shares NYC dermatologist Dr. Kenneth Mark. "It's lifted the outer part of her eyebrows, as well, really opening her eyes."

LIPS

"Her lips are noticeably fuller," observes Dr. Mark. A plumper pout, courtesy of hyaluronic acid fillers like Juvéderm or Restylane, costs $600 and needs to be redone every six months.

JAWLINE

Dr. Mark deems Carrie's results from apparent Ultherapy treatment "excellent." The nonsurgical procedure uses ultrasound to tone and tighten skin and runs around $5,000.

Carrie's Pitch-Perfect Upgrades

Carrie Underwood was just a small-town Oklahoma girl with a big voice when she became the American Idol champ in 2005. But the "Blown Away" singer was a quick study on the art of superstardom. Among the Hollywood rules the 33-year-old now seems to be abiding by? Let cosmetic experts take the wheel for subtle upgrades. "She doesn't look radically different and has maintained a refreshed, rejuvenated appearance," notes Beverly Hills plastic surgeon Dr. Josef Hadeed, who does not treat Carrie. "But it's likely she's had help from Botox in her forehead and frown lines." The seven-time Grammy winner's glam quotient has also been upped by "teeth whitening, lip fillers and a gum lift to make her teeth look longer and her smile less gummy," believes NYC cosmetic dentist Dr. Shawn Sadri, who likewise doesn't call the star a patient. The lower half of her face may have gotten another refining boost from Ultherapy, says NYC dermatologist

Dr. Kenneth Mark (who has never worked with Carrie), noting that "her jawline is lifted and more defined." Overall, Carrie's evolution from girl next door to A-list beauty hits just the right note, say the docs. Raves Dr. Mark: "She looks sexy!" L&S

Taraji P. Henson

The Empire actress' career has skyrocketed since 2001 (above left). And so has her bosom. Although the 45-year-old has never confirmed she had a breast enhancement, her girls are definitely looking larger and more in charge these days. As for guys we polled? They preferred Taraji's new fuller and perkier assets by a landslide — an A-cup just wouldn't feel appropriate with over-the-top Cookie Lyon!
