

KNIFESTYLES OF THE RICH & FAMOUS

2008

She's one of the most beautiful women in the world. Was model Chrissy Teigen, 31, born that way, or has she had help from cosmetic surgeons? "Some subtle changes have occurred," plastic surgeon Dr. Danielle DeLuca-Pytell says of Chrissy, who has admitted to getting Botox injections to help with jaw-clenching and liposuction on her armpits. "Her forehead and eyes have likely been treated with Botox, and her lips look slightly plumper. But I think she looks better than ever!"

"She has enhanced her natural beauty."

— Dr. Ryan Neinstein

Fellow plastic surgeons Dr. Ryan Neinstein and Dr. Josef Hadeed — who, like the other experts quoted in this story, have not treated Chrissy — both see indications of rhinoplasty. But plastic surgeon Dr. Wright Jones believes it's just better makeup and says there are "no obvious signs of surgery." Whatever she's had done, Dr. Hadeed is impressed: "I would not do a single thing differently on her." LS

NOW

BROWS

Dr. Neinstein says Chrissy "has achieved a more feminine brow aesthetic using Botox to strengthen and weaken different muscles." It's kept her forehead smooth, too, at an estimated cost of $1.2K.

CHEEKS

Plump up the volume! Dr. Hadeed points out that "she has more volume and better-defined cheekbones now than in the earlier picture." Cost for cheek fillers: $850 to $1.7K.

NOSE

Has Chrissy had rhinoplasty? Dr. DeLuca-Pytell thinks so. "Her nose looks very subtly narrower at the tip and also the dorsum [just below the bridge]," she says. Price tag: about $15K.

CHIN

"Her chin appears to be slightly more prominent in her recent photo," says Dr. Hadeed, "which could be the result of either fillers or a chin implant." Implants cost about $3K.
